THE BUNKER HILL BOYS' CLUB
TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

SEPTEMBER 1, 1916—OCTOBER 1, 1917

To Our Friends:—

"Uncle Sam" calls! Once again the spirit of Bunker Hill is manifested by the boys of to-day who are ready to give their lives for Democracy's cause and have enlisted for service in all branches of the Army and Navy.

The members and ex-members of the Bunker Hill Boys' Club, not to be outdone by their illustrious ancestors, are serving as infantrymen, cavalrymen, wireless operators, mechanics, yeomen, aviators, and marines. It is estimated that over a thousand are in the service. The Boys' Club has always fostered a spirit of patriotism, and it is with much satisfaction that we see our boys responding so nobly to the country's need.

The Bunker Hill Boys' Club stands ready to assist the country in any capacity that it can. It has been suggested that our new building be used for the soldiers and sailors in Charlestown during the day as a place for reading and recreation. We plan to follow this suggestion and, if need be, later on to turn the Club into a hospital for the wounded soldiers, a purpose for which it is admirably adapted. We believe firmly that this is a time when every bit of effort and energy should be concentrated to bring the war to a quick and a successful conclusion.

In making the foregoing statement, we ask you not to forget the younger boys at home, the future soldiers and citizens. It is important and essential, while the older boys are at the front, doing their loyal duty to their country, that the little fellows at home shall not be neglected. In many of the Allied countries now at war the increase in juvenile delinquency has been so pronounced that preventive measures have been taken to correct this grave error so that the younger element will not suffer for the lack of proper care and direction. The growing boy at home, without the guiding hand of a father or an older brother, is like a ship without a rudder, and he misses the counsel that only a father or a brother can give. With this vital lack at home, he should be provided with the right associates and his environment should be of the best, so that the country may conserve him for future citizenship. The

FOR "UNCLE SAM"

Bunker Hill Boys' Club, with its new building and a fine staff of workers, is ready to handle this problem in a section of Boston where it is needed. Charlestown has a population of 40,000 people. It is estimated that at least 5,000 of these are boys between the ages eight and eighteen years.

We are glad to state that this year all of our Manual Training Classes are to be placed on a war basis, and that everything pertaining to "War Work" will be given first consideration, and will be done for the actual cost of materials only, the labor to be furnished by the boys as their way to help. The boys of the Woodworking Class won first prize in competition with Boys' Clubs throughout the United States, at the Boys' Club Federation of America's Annual Conference held at Buffalo, New York. The quality of workmanship shown by these lads was splendid, and received favorable commendation from all. The arrangement of this class in the new building offers exceptional advantages to all boys interested in woodworking. Each boy is equipped with a standard bench containing a cabinet completely outfitted with tools. The boys are given thorough instruction under the supervision and direction of an expert cabinet-maker, who is conversant with the method of teaching boys. It is especially interesting to note at this time that a number of the Woodworking Class are now serving their country as apprentice boat-builders at the Charlestown Navy Yard, and were accepted for positions there through the recommendation of the Club's Employment Bureau.

The Printing Class, with mediocre equipment, printed the monthly club paper, "The Harbinger," and did some job work for the club during the year. Considering the poor conditions under which this class has labored the last few years, the work accomplished speaks wonders for the ability of the boys. With only one small press to work on and a type shortage, the boys turned out some very good printing. However, bright, happy days are in store for these lads. A printing plant, splendidly equipped, partly furnished by C. W. Barron, of the Boston News Bureau, is to give the boys ample opportunity to assert and show their versatility. If pioneering counts, and it surely does, these boy printers have earned the opportunity to better themselves. The new equipment contains two motor-driven Chandler, Price presses, to be used by the more proficient members of the class, and one smaller hand job-press for beginners. The type assortment is complete, and allows a wide latitude in selection. This class, we expect, will do all of the Club printing, and will also specialize on outside work, and, if possible, make this department a paying one.

An outstanding feature of the work relating to the Wireless Telegraphy is the fact that a number of its members are enlisted in the Naval Reserve as wireless operators. One of our very best boys has but one step to go before becoming a Chief Operator. These boys all received their fundamental training in the Boys' Club Wireless Class, and are now competent operators. In the new building preparations have been made to teach twenty-four boys in this department. Each boy is provided with his telephone head-gear and instrument. An inside wireless service outfit, an exact duplication of the real thing, is provided through the use of a buzzer. These boys will be in charge of a Harvard Radio School student.

The Basketry Class was another department to win a first prize at the Annual Boys' Club Conference. The beautiful reed and basketry work exhibited by these lads was a treat to the eye, and their weaving showed that they possessed ability far beyond their years. The average age in this class is twelve. The coloring of the different baskets was very artistic. The ability of the instructor to guide the work of these lads and keep them interested in what they were doing is the key to the success attained. We are sorry that he will not be with us this year, but, like many other loyal men, he has departed to do his bit for "Uncle Sam."

Mechanical Drawing and Stenography are two new classes which will be added to our work in the new building. The demand for these new departments can be more readily appreciated when it is realized that registration has already stopped and each class has its full quota. Mechanical drawing will be a great aid to the boys doing mechanical labor at the Navy Yard, and will, we hope, assist them to advance faster in their daily work. Stenography is a very much desired opportunity, and the class does not commence to reach the number of boys who wish to join it.

The Game Rooms are always crowded, and the boys use this part of the Club continually. The congestion and poor ventilation noticeable in the old building will be completely eliminated in the new quarters, where a fine, large, airy room, finished in tapestry brick, has been provided for this part of the work.

The Library in the new building is beautifully finished. It is furnished with durable mission furniture, and the atmosphere pervading it is an incentive to any boy to take a book from the shelves and enjoy an afternoon or an evening reading. Books of a wholesome character are selected, and many happy hours will be spent here by the members. A number of people have been kind enough to send us boys' books, and we take this opportunity to thank them heartily for their interest. There are, however, a few empty shelves, and if any friends care to assist us in this very practical way we would sincerely appreciate it.

MECHANICAL DRAWING CLASSROOM, NEW BUILDING, BUNKER HILL BOYS' CLUB

STENOGRAPHY CLASS, NEW BUILDING, BUNKER HILL BOYS' CLUB

The Gymnasium in the old quarters was entirely inadequate, and did not meet the demands of the large number of boys who wished to use it. Under the able direction of a competent physical instructor, the boys were put through a course of Swedish gymnastics each night. Basket-ball and boxing were very popular.

In the new quarters a spacious area has been provided for gymnasium purposes, to meet the increased demands of the Club work. Military drill will form an important feature, and will, we believe, bring the boys to a more serious realization of the war business confronting the nation and will be a genuine inspiration. In connection with the gymnasium work it is planned to give each boy a thorough examination, to find if he possesses a physical weakness and, if he does, to give him certain exercises to help and, if possible, to eliminate it. The Gymnasium is to be under the direction of an able gymnast, who is an expert in this line of endeavor.

The Natatorium in the new quarters is the gift of Charles Philip Beebe, presented to the Bunker Hill Boys' Club in memory of his mother, Emily Appleton Beebe. It is one of the finest swimming baths in the country, and a perfect beauty for looks and attractive in its simplicity. Mr. Beebe's helpfulness and generosity gives to the boys living in this section of Boston the chance to enjoy an invigorating and healthful sport, which will be of direct personal benefit. To say that they are delighted is to put it mildly. They are wildly enthusiastic. The pool will make many boys excellent swimmers, and will enable us to teach others the art of swimming, which is a very necessary requirement nowadays. We take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude to Mr. Beebe for his big-hearted gift, and to let him know that he will always live in the hearts of his friends — the boys of the Bunker Hill Boys' Club.

Two splendid regulation bowling-alleys have been installed in a room in the basement, especially set apart for the purpose. Bowling teams will be formed and leagues started so as to keep up plenty of competition between the boys.

We are all very happy at this time to earnestly acknowledge the splendid help given the Club during the campaign for a new building conducted in March, 1916. The success of the movement was made possible by staunch, loyal friends, who recognized the importance and the need for work with boys in the North End of Boston. It also showed conclusively that big-hearted, generous people are alive to the need of conserving boys for future citizenship of the nation. We are extremely proud of our new building, but we are more proud of the enthusiastic spirit manifested by those who took part in the movement. It was a wonderful incentive to the Board of Overseers, and to all actually connected with the work. It demonstrated that the people of Boston are alive and eager to meet the call of the boy, which is a very important one.

With the opening of the new building, we are entering a wider and a larger field of usefulness, and we steadfastly believe that we will do a greater good for a larger number of boys. The need for a more spacious building was vital, and the actual achievement of new quarters after years of pioneer work is a step forward in the development of Boston youth. We know that the loyal friends who made the Bunker Hill Boys' Club a reality, and who have stood by us through the years, will understand the problem confronting us, and will continue to show a friendship for the boys' cause, a cause that all right-minded and right-thinking people cannot ignore.

We thank all who have so loyally and consistently aided the work in the past and, through faithful work, will strive to merit the continuance of their friendship.
